150 More Years Of Making it Better
A moving video speaks to the impact the YMCA has had in the lives of real people in our community. We are reminded of our dependency upon each other and the role we can play in one another's lives. The Y has a vision for continuing this impact in the future.

Center Programs: Joe & Bill
In 1991, Bill is struck with MS and loses the will to keep going. He is spurred into action by Joe, a blind trainer with the Adaptive Training Program at the YMCA. Bill credits Joe, the training program, and the YMCA as being the sole reason he is alive today. Almost 20 years later, they still train together every week.

Olympic Dreams
Two-time Olympic gold medalist Garrett Weber-Gale returns to the YMCA location where his Olympic dream began and through him we meet Eleanor - a young swimmer with Olympic dreams of her own.
